STRIKE OF WORKERS*By Associated Press.

HARRISBURG, June 13.—Complaints by citizens in Fayette county charging the H. C. Pickle Coke company with having shut off the water supply to miners' homes at Shoaf, Fayette county, have been investigated at the direction of the State Department of Health, it was announced. The investigation showed, the department declares, that the supply was shut off because of a strike of industrial operators but that the community has an adequate supply from wells and hydrants.

The investigation was made by Dr. R. Altman, Fayette county medical director, at the instance of the department, following receipt of letters of complaint from miners at Shoaf. Dr. Altman reported that the supply had been shut off but that the town was not helpless. The wells, he reported, are not contaminated.

Governor Spruill, the department said, has had no had in the situation and no order has been issued by the health commissioner.

BONNIWELL HURLS
WRENCH INTO DEMS'
HARMONY MACHINE*Defeated Candidate for Chairmanship Emphasizes Remarks to Committee Members With Oath.

HARRISBURG, June 13.—Just as the Democratic State Committee was concluding its business Monday afternoon, Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell of Philadelphia tossed a monkey-wrench into the machinery and destroyed what up to that point appeared to be a harmonious meeting. He was invited to address the committee, and to the escort sent to lead him to the platform, he remarked:

"You have a nerve to ask me to address the committee after the way I have been treated today," emphasizing his remark with an oath.

The situation was growing quite embarrassing, when Charles F. Uhl of Somerset relieved the strain by making a motion that the committee adjourn. His way out was accepted.

The incident would not have occurred had a man experienced in political matters been in the chair. Austin E. McCollough of Lancaster, the new state chairman put over by John A. McSparran, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, was presiding.

He had concluded the routine business of the committee and had introduced Mr. McSparran; Judge Samuel E. Shull and Col. Fred R. Kerr, candidates for United States senators; Robert E. Patterson, Jr., nominee for lieutenant governor, and A. M. Thompson, candidate for secretary of internal affairs. They had made speeches and Judge Shull, in particular, had shown that he bore no malice because of the defeat of Judge Bonniwell for state chairman, the candidate he had championed.

Chairman McCollough conceived the idea of having Judge Bonniwell address the committee, evidently thinking the Philadelphia would announce that he had no charge in the case because the committee by a vote of 77 to 27, had rejected him for state chairman, when he believed he had a majority of the committee pledged to his selection. The prudent presiding officer should have sounded out the feelings of Judge Bonniwell before extending the invitation. Instead he appointed Webster Grim of Bucks and Colonel Kerr a committee to escort Judge Bonniwell to the platform.

Mr. Grim, during the nomination of candidates for chairman, had made a speech seconding the selection of Mr. McCollough and Colonel Kerr had introduced the Lancaster man.

General Richard Connor of Greensburg was elected treasurer of the committee and Mrs. Clarence Renshaw of Pittsburgh vice-chairman. Henry C. Niles of York was nominated for superior court judge. The secretary of the committee will be appointed later.

Mrs. Lucy Dorsey, laws of Altoona, had been elected adopted giving chairman Bruce P. Sterling, who refused another term, a vote of thanks for his work. Former Judge W. E. Porter of Lawrence was the author of the resolution which conveyed greetings to Woodrow Wilson and expressed the hope for his early recovery of health.

The committee, consisting of Mr. Sterling, Mr. Niles, Edward C. Higbee of Fayette, Mrs. Jean Kane Pontik Brown of Chester and Miss Mary Archer of Berks was named to draft a platform.

FOR RESURFACING
THREE STREETS*Will Be Used in North
Pittsburg, Peach and Water
Thoroughfares.*FAIRVIEW IS HELD UP*Bids Will Be Asked for More Substantial Base Than Now Supports Weighing Surfaces; Playgrounds Committee Given Assurance of Financial Aid

Contracts for three sections of street resurfacing with white, at an expense of slightly over $10,000, were awarded by City Council Monday night the Blumington Paving & Resurfacing Company. The sections covered by the contracts are:

North Pittsburg street, from Drimstone corner to the north boundary of Peach street, 2,532 square yards. Peach street, from the east boundary of Pittsburg street to Water street, 1,511 square yards.

Water street from the south boundary of Peach street to North alley, 580 square yards.

The figure bid in each instance was $2.25 a square yard.

In addition a bid of 40 cents a foot was submitted for the re setting of 64 feet of curb in Peach street.

Councilman J. A. Cypert took exception to the resurfacing of only a part of Water street, north of Peach street, contending that the portion north of North alley is "in need of improvement than the section authorized."

Awarding of the contract for Fairview avenue was held up, at the suggestion of Councilman R. L. Berge of the street department, who said doubt existed as to whether the base is stable enough for resurfacing and who later introduced an ordinance providing for the improvement of the street, with the view to having a concrete base constructed.

An ordinance was introduced also for the grading and paving of Ryan street from David avenue to Austin avenue.

Dr. S. S. Stahl, who is owner of the greater part of the frontage along Galatin avenue, appeared in behalf of the paving of that street and went away with the promise of Council that bids for the work will be asked. The improvement will include a sewer extension to relieve a bad condition which results in flooding of cellars, and also the construction of a retaining wall and steps at the Arch street end of the avenue. The estimated cost of the concrete work and the sewer extension is $1,500. Dr. Stahl said he was ready to pay the cost as the work progresses.

The petition for the improvement of South Arch street between the end of the present paving and the city line was returned for a second hearing at the end of the avenue. The petitioners to have the proposed width changed from 16 feet to 20 feet there being objection to narrowing the street. It will be considered next Monday night.

An ordinance was introduced providing for the vacating by the city of a small strip of ground in East Park adjoining the canal at W. Wright street, for a return for payment of cost of street paving in front of the property. The land is of no use to any other. It was explained. It adjoins Chastnut Hill Cemetery on top of the hill.

Council by verbal agreement authorized warrants from time to time toward the expense of the operation of the playgrounds, up to $500, the amount specified in the budget.

Mrs. B. F. Jones appeared in behalf of the playgrounds.

FINES OF $100 FOR MEN, $75 FOR WOMEN
IN SOMERSET RIOT*All Are Paroled for Six Months
In Custody of the Sheriff.*FIVE DO NOT APPEAR

SOMERSET, June 13.—Twenty-nine men and 10 women, including three officers of the Bessemer Local of the United Mine Workers, adjudged guilty of violating an injunction restraining miners from interference with the operation of Consolidation Coal Company plants, were fined for contempt of court.

The three union officers were fined $100 each and their shares of the costs and paroled in the custody of Sheriff J. W. Griffiths for six months. The other men were fined $100 each and the women were fined $75 each and costs and paroled for six months.

The injunction in question was granted the Consolidation Company in April. It restrained union miners from gathering on property owned by the concern. The case grew out of disorder at the Bessemer mine June 1 and 2 when a crowd of men and women attacked miners on their way to work. The court warned the women to keep away from the property.

Six other defendants will be sentenced later. They did not appear because of illness.

Verdict of Murder In First Degree Is Asked for Minister*By Associated Press.

CHARLES TOWN, June 13.—Murder in the first degree was the verdict asked by the state of the jury today in the case of Rev. J. T. Wilburn, charged with the killing of Deputy Sheriff Gordon during the disturbances in the southern end of the town in 1921.

Charles Gordon, son of the deputy, was the first state witness called. He described his father's wounds he saw on the body after it was brought to his home.

Jack Brinkmann, a musician of Blair, testified he was with the Wilburns and saw the three deputies killed when the Logan men and his party came together at Blair gap. Mutual demands were made for countersigns, he said. The answer of Gore, "amen," brought rifle fire from the Wilburn men.

Deputy Munsey, the witness stated, was still alive when he reached the bodies but Henry Kitcher, with the marchers, played his rifle to the deputy's head and killed him.

Brinkmann declared Rev. Wilburn was the leader of his party and before the men left Blair for the hills, Wilburn said, "I am forced to lay down the Bible and take up my gun. I have had experience with the Logan county thugs. As you know, we have no jail to place prisoners in, so you know what to do with them."

Court proceedings were halted when James Mason, counsel for the defense, charged Elmo Gore, son of the slain deputy, with having a gun in the court room.

Gore admitted the charge but claimed the privilege of carrying the pistol as a Logan deputy sheriff.

Judge Woods stated there was no necessity for any one carrying a pistol in his court and requested the deputy to leave it in his room hereafter.

MAYOR ISSUES WARNING AS TO FOURTH NOISES

The Fourth of July in Connellsville will be celebrated strictly in accordance with the terms of the ordinance governing it. Mayor Charles C. Mitchell said this afternoon. He was making the announcement early, he said, in order that dealers in fireworks might become acquainted with the provisions of the ordinance and buy only stocks which may be sold without violating the law.

The discharge of the fire-crackers, the mayor said, will be permitted only from midnight of July 3 to midnight of July 4. Firing of them before or after these dates will result in arrest. Another thing which will be taboo in the city on Independence Day will be the placing of torpedoes on street car tracks. In some sections of the city these are placed along the rails for several hundred feet and frequently for blocks, causing a deafening sound when a car passes over them. These are especially barred.

The ordinance prohibits the sale or discharge of any fire-crackers more than five inches in length and the warning to dealers is given in order that they may not purchase any of these considered dangerous.

During the past few years there have been no serious injuries resulting from the celebration of the Fourth and for that reason more care is being exercised to save lives and property damage this year.

Auto License Forfeiture

Philadelphia Ledger

Announcement has just been made by the State Highway Department of the revocation of automobile licenses in cases where drivers were intoxicated while operating cars, etc. and in one case of a driver "who failed to stop and render assistance following an accident." This is a form of discipline which might be applied far more frequently than it is. Licenses are issued on the theory that the system insures the competency of the person to whom it is granted and gives the authorities a hold on the licensed individual in the event of misconduct. The power of revocation if wisely used would go a long way toward correcting the abuse of the road and preventing a proportion at least of the casualties which mar the record of every holiday.

If justices of the peace and magistrates possessed the power of suspending the licenses of violators of the traffic laws who may be brought before them, such suspension to remain in force until full reparation of injury done shall have been made, or until a final determination by a competent reviewing authority could be had as to the period of suspension or revocation, as the case might be, it might be that "accidents" would be less frequent and drivers more careful of the rights of others.

But the immunity of the average speed-frenzied and the absence of a sense of personal responsibility in some minds due to the mere fact of "accident insurance" operate at present to create conditions on the public highways that are a disgrace to a civilized age. With that immunity coupled with the certainty of a license forfeiture and a stricter personal accountability not to be evaded by any form of insurance, these conditions would be improved materially.

The Radish Comes

Into Its Own

Lutrobe Bulletin.

Just at a time when the proud gardeners are plucking the first radishes of the new season from the bed, along comes Prince Troubadour, the sculptor, with a song of praise for the lowly vegetable in question, it brings his opinion that in the radish along with the tomato and a few nuts may be found the ingredients of perfect food—food that not only will sustain life, but lengthen one's years.

Why the prince has omitted the onion, which, some lovers of onions will tell you, is their medicine, is difficult to understand. Perhaps, he does not care for onions. Perhaps, he feels that the onion speaks for itself.

At all events, we're at the season of the year when men and women are divided into classes—those who like radishes, and those whom radishes do not like; those who like onions, and those for whom onions have a profound dislike.

The prince thinks that by eating radishes, he can prolong life. There are others who feel that to tackle a plate of radishes would be to risk life itself.

It is so with onions. It is so with tomatoes.

Some can eat them, and thrive upon them. To others they bring distress.

Every vegetable has its champion.

Every vegetable finds itself spurned.

The prince champions the radish.

And he gets his name in the paper.

But for all that—it is one wish to hear a real eulogy of the radish, let one listen to the amateur gardener who has been plucking radishes from his garden since the middle of May—the finest radishes ever grown.

Not like; those who like onions, and
those for whom onions have a profound dislike.

Rail Strike May Be Directed From Canadian Offices

By Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, June 13.—It was intimated today that any rail strike growing out of wages cuts ordered by the United States Railroad Labor Board might be directed and financed from Canada to evade the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court holding unions liable for damages caused by members. Leaders of railroad unions were quoted as saying that plans for establishing Canadian headquarters are legitimate because the unions are international organizations. Financial penalties in case of a walkout would thus be averted.

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Read the Result

Cincinnati, Ohio.—"I suffered for a year with nervous troubles and irregularities before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was worn out all the time and I was unable to do my washing. My girl friends and my sister told me if I would take your Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills I would be relieved. After taking the first bottle I felt better, and neglected it awhile, but found I could not do my work until I was stronger. So I took the Vegetable Compound again and now I am the mother of a 19 months old boy. He is fat and healthy and I am sure I could never have carried him if it had not been for your Vegetable Compound. I recommend your medicine to all women although I am young to be advising some one older."—Mrs. CHRISTA PRINCE, 313 W. Liberty St., Cincinnati, Ohio. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains no harmful drugs and can be taken in safety by any woman.

Kidney and Bladder Troubles HAVE TO GO

Clogged Up Kidney Deposits Are Dissolved and the Urinary Tract Completely Driven Out; Druggists Told to Guarantee It in Every Instance.

"Your very life," says Dr. Carey, "depends upon the perfect functioning and health of your kidneys, so whatever you do don't neglect them." Dr. Carey's famous Prescription No. 177 (Liquid or Tablets) is not recommended for everything, but we cannot too strongly urge its use if you suffer from annoying bladder troubles, frequent passing of water night and day, with stinging or irritation, brick dust sediment or highly colored urine, bloating, irritability with loss of flesh, backache, rheumatism, or any other ailment connected with the bladder or kidneys. Dr. Carey's famous Prescription No. 177 is the most powerful medicine in its class for dissolving kidney deposits, and for driving out the uric acid from the system. Don't wait until tomorrow to begin the use of this wonderful prescription. It will have any of the above symptoms. Kidney and bladder troubles don't wear away. They will grow upon you slowly, steadily and with increasing certainty. Never mind the failures of the past if you even suspect that you are subject to kidney disease; don't lose a single day for Connellville Drug Co., C. B. Carey and every good druggist have been authorized to return the purchase money on the first bottle to all who state they have received no benefit. Advertisement.

Paul Biese's Orchestra

"TEASIN'"—that's the spirit in this syncopated melody! It's "teasin'" you to dance once more to the rhythm of Paul Biese's saxophone and as the piano takes up the melody to the accompanying "pinkey-pink" of the banjos you'll obey that impulse.

"ON THE ALAMO" also by Paul Biese's Orchestra is an excellent companion piece to "Teasin'". Not too fast, it has just a hint of lazy southern waters, and the swirl of a Spanish mantilla.

CORONADO COAL CO. SEEKS FURTHER HEARING OF CASE

WASHINGTON, June 13.—It was announced Sunday that the Coronado Coal Company had obtained from the United States Supreme Court permission to petition for a re-argument of the case and that in the meantime the court record has been stayed for 90 days, during which the $800,000 appeal bond filed by the national organization of the United Mine Workers of America and the district union will continue effective. It is understood this status will be maintained until the court convenes next October.

Good Help in Summer.

Indigestion causes worry, nervousness, sick headaches, biliousness, coated tongue, bad breath, bloating, gas, constipation and constant distress. Henry C. Thomas, 1002 Harrison Ave., Boston, Mass., writes: "Since taking Foley Cathartic Tablets I feel fine. They cleanse the bowels, sweeten the stomach and invigorate the liver. Cause no pain, no nausea. Not habit-forming—just a good, wholesome physic. Sold everywhere. Advertisement."

None of the large coal companies or other corporations, Mr. Drinker asserted, was in any way connected with the Coronado company or with any of its affiliated corporations, all of which, he said, are small companies, operated under the management of Franklin Bache of Philadelphia, who organized the companies and was and has always continued their principal stockholder.

West Penn Defeats Lennox Club in Hard-Fought Game; Score Without Single Hit

Walk, Followed by Error and Sacrifice, Bring in Tallies.

BIG CROWD IS PRESENT

The West Penn and Lennox clubs clashed in one of the fastest and most interesting City League baseball games of the season at Payette Field last evening. The West Penn, finally getting the breaks in the seventh inning, scored three runs. Those tallies won the game, no other runner crossing the rubber.

The railway men were out-hit, six to three. The three markers were scored without a hit in the seventh. Mullen led off with a base on balls. Chambers, who batted for Warner, struck out. Frazier knocked one to short which Dushaw fumbled and was safe. McMahon followed with an attempted sacrifice and reached first. The decision was close. Thorp then whaled one at Sherrick on second. It got away from George and two runners crossed the platter. Before the faning closed McMahon had also reached.

McMoran and Thorp both pitched good baseball, each showing ability to lighten up in the pinches and leaving the runners on the bases on a number of occasions.

Smiley, of the West Penn team, prevented a run when he fell at full length to stop Ridge's hit between first and second, holding the runner on third.

The game was witnessed by a large crowd. These two teams are the best drawing cards in the league.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad baseball team will play the Westinghouse Bloomer Girls at Payette Field Wednesday evening. The unusual attraction is sure to draw a big crowd as it is the first appearance of the well known girls' outfit in this city. The game will start at 5:15. The manager of the Westinghouse ladies has written the local club it will have to extend its best efforts to win, even though the opponents are girls. The Bloomer would be not lost a game this season. The first basemen on the visiting outfit is said to be as funny as "Lefty" Grimm of the Pirates and in a district where she is known is a real drawing card.

The Covenanters and Evangelicals played a tight game in the Church League last evening, the former finally nosing out their opponents by a 1-0 score. Jaynes and Leo engaged in a pitching duel, the former being returned the victor. Jaynes had 13 strikeouts to eight for Leo.

The West Side Hill Toppers defeated the West Side Tigers yesterday afternoon by the score of 15-10. It was the eighth straight victory for the Hill Toppers. J. Ruhl and Marshall composed the winning battery and Robbins and Burkholder worked for the Tigers.

The Poplar Grove Klondikes defeated the Payette Bakers 13-2, at Poplar Grove last evening.

The Pittsburgh Pirates lost to Boston.

PENNSY CONDUCTS INTENSIVE CAREFUL CROSSING CAMPAIGN

Intensive efforts are being made on the Pennsylvania System to prevent grade crossing accidents in connection with the national careful crossing campaign being conducted during the summer months under the auspices of the American Railway Association.

The object of this campaign is to bring to the attention of the American people the necessity for exercising the greatest possible care to avoid being struck or killed or injured by trains while traveling over highway grade crossings and to impress upon locomotive engineers, firemen, conductors

Irish Games Are Old

Ireland is the only country in the world except France that has a minister of sports. He is J. J. Walsh, who doubles the parts of dual minister of sports and postmaster general of the government. His sports job is even bigger than his task of taking over the post-office, for it puts on him the responsibility of organizing the great national games to be held in Dublin.

The Irish Rattennap games have a history of many hundred years. Walsh says they are older than the Olympic games in Greece. They ended the year before the first British soldiers came to Ireland in the Twelfth century and their resumption is organized for the date when the last British soldier will have left it.

and trainmen, track foremen, crossing watchmen and all other employees the necessity for doing everything within their power to prevent such accidents.

Approximately 140,000 posters illustrating a grade crossing accident have been distributed for posting along the Pennsylvania System. A million stickers showing a reproduction of the poster will be placed on correspondence sent out from the various offices of the railroad. Lantern slides also have been furnished to motion picture houses to call attention to the objects of the campaign on the screen.

"Six years ago," writes W. H. Shadwell, Stanley, Va., "I had kidney trouble, and at times was unable to raise myself in bed. Foley Kidney Pills were recommended to me by the Chief of the City Department. After using 3 bottles I was completely relieved and have never had a return of the symptoms." The "Mother Ship"

Like a great "mother ship" carrying supplies for a squadron of destroyers or submarines, so the far-reaching Atlantic system of tank-trucks, pumps and storage stations stands out as an ever present, ever ready source of supply for gasoline-needy motorists.

No other gasoline surpasses Atlantic in quality and dependability. None is more scientifically fitted to the requirements of present-day motors.

But that isn't all. No other gasoline in the State has behind it a distributing organization that even approaches the Atlantic system in scope and thoroughness.

All of which means that when you buy Atlantic you get gasoline which not only is always right, always uniform, but always OBTAINABLE—three vital essentials to maximum carburetor efficiency and the consistently smooth, full-powered operation of any motor.

At the Theatres

THE SOISSON.

"THE SONG OF LIFE," a First National production, is the leading attraction today and tomorrow at this theatre. The production is heralded as the most dramatic and human contribution which Director Stahl has yet given to the screen. It is a stirring story of romance and adventure with a powerful leader-love theme in the background. The principal players are Gaston Glass, Georgia Woodhorne, Grace Darmond and four-year-old Richard Hendrick, who has endeared himself to the hearts of picture-goers the world over for his inimitable work on the screen. Other distinguished members of the cast are Arthur Stuart Hull, Wedgwood Nowell, Edward Poff, Fred Kelsey and Claude Payton. "The Song of Life" is based on a theme conceived by Director Stahl and developed into scenario form by Dues Meredyth, one of screenwriting's most gifted writers. Neither time nor expense was spared in the making of "The Song of Life." It is said, and according to all pre-release accounts, it is one of the most remarkable films of a decade.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE GLORIOUS FOOL," a Goldwyn picture featuring Helene Chadwick and Richard Dix, is one of the big, human picture plays that Goldwyn is making and ranks with the best screen comedies of the year. It has a splendid cast including Helene Chadwick and Richard Dix, Goldwyn's newly featured film stars, Kate Lester, Otto Hoffman, Vera Lewis, Theodore von Eltz, John Lince and others. E. Mason Hopper directed. The story concerns a pretty Jane Brown, probationary in a hospital who is coaxed by a reckless youth, brought in in a dying condition, into marriage in order that his fortune may be left where it will do some good. But Billy Grant recovers and finds himself in love with his stranger wife instead of the society belle who had lured him on learning of his father's liquor. The fascinating romance that follows is shot through with heart-warming comedy. Tomorrow and Wednesday "The Grim Comedian" will be shown.

THE ORPHEUM.

"THE FAITH HEALER," the feature picture today, presents Milton Sills, popular Paramount player, in the stellar role. "The Faith Healer" is said to be one of the most beautiful pictures produced this season. The theme of the picture is stupendous and startling. It has a beautiful love story and represents the best historical ability of some of the screen's greatest artists, such as Milton Sills, Anna Forrest, Fontaine La Rue, Frederick Vroom, Loyola O'Connor, May Girard, John Curry, Adolph Menjou and others of note. The story concerns a young shepherd who goes forth to heal the sick. At his greatest hour of triumph he falls in love with a beautiful girl but as he yields to his passion, he feels a loss of his spiritual power. After many dramatic incidents, the healer realizes that God does not deny spiritual love to men and instantly his power to heal is restored. Paul Perry is responsible for the excellent photography and beautiful lighting. Tomorrow and Thursday "Sentimental Tommy" will be shown.

PERCY MARTIN'S MIDWAY SHOWS.

The Percy Martin's Famous Midway Shows will open a five-day engagement, Tuesday evening, June 13 at Liberty Heights Park, West Side Hill. The Martin Shows are for their size one of the best and cleanest exhibition shows in the business. Mr. Martin has provided good clean wholesome amusements for the public. The shows cater especially to ladies and children. There is nothing offensive, girl shows and gambling are not tolerated. Among the features are:

The Hawaiian Serenaders, a troupe of native Hawaiians, who depict life as it actually exists on those famous islands. Instrumental music, singing and dancing are afforded the patrons who attend this attraction.

The big children's arena, boxing and wrestling exhibitions, with well known favorites participating, and there are many minor attractions.

The rides, seaplanes and torpedoes wheel are the most up-to-date and expensive to be seen anywhere.

The shows began this season six weeks ago in Cumberland, Md., and the local papers in that city spoke very highly regarding the shows.

The shows open Tuesday evening, June 13.

CHAPTER I

Streaks of red ran upward, and he answered the great gray eye of the wilderness lifted its mist-tinged lid. From the green depths came the flutter of a lone wood-thrush. A cougar leaped from the low limb of an oak, missed, and a shuddering deer leaped through a forest aisle, bounded into a little clearing, stopped, rigid, sniffed a deadlier enemy, and whirled into the wilderness again. Still deeper in the depths a boy with a bow and arrow and naked, except for a loincloth, sprang from sleep and again took flight along a buffalo trail. Again, not far behind him, three grunting savages were taking up the print of his moccasined feet.

An hour before a red flare rose within the stacked enclosure that was reared in the center of the little clearing, and above it smoke was seen rising. Before the first glimmer of day the gates yawned a little and three dim shapes appeared and moved leisurely for the woods—such men with a long flintlock rifle in the hollow of his arm, a hunting knife in his belt, and a conch shell cup on his head. At either end of the stockade a watch-tower of oak became visible and in each a sleepy sentinel yawned and sniffed the welcome smell of frying venison below him.

One sentinel rose towering to the full of his stature, stretched his mighty arms with a yawn, and lightly leaped, rifle in hand, into the enclosure. A girl climbing the rude ladder to the tower stopped midway. "Morning, Dave!"

"Morning, Polly!"

"You don't seem to have much use for this ladder."

"Not unless I'm going up; and I wouldn't then if I could jump as high as I can fall." He went toward her to help her down.

"I wouldn't climb very high," she said, and scolding his hand with a tantalizing little grimace she leaped as lightly as had he to the ground. Two older women who sat about a kettle of steaming clothes watched her.

"Look at Polly Conrad, won't ya? I declare that girl—"

"Lyddy!" cried Polly, "bring Dave's breakfast!"

At the door of each log cabin, as solidly built as a little fort, a hunter was cleaning a long rifle. At the western angle two men were strengthening the pickets of the palisade. About the fire two women were sucking hobs at naked breasts.

At the first a tall girl rose, pushed a mass of sunburned hair from her heated forehead, and a flush not from the fire fumed with her smile.

"I reckon Dave can walk this far—he don't look very puny."

though she knew some nonsense was coming.

"The happy even with two if I'd rather were the away."

"If you'll have to try some day—with all of us far away," said the gentle Lyddy.

"No doubt, no doubt." It fell upon his breakfast.

"Good boy!" said Lyddy, and Polly looked at her with questioning wonder. Dave gave his hunting knife a pathetic flourish.

"And when the Virgin's maidens come, where will poor Dave be?"

"I wonder," said Lyddy, "if they'll have long hair like Dave's?" Dave shook his long locks with mock pride.

"Yes, but it won't be like my own and I'll be powdered."

"Lord, I'd like to see the first Indian who takes one of their scalps!" Polly laughed, but there was a shudder in Lyddy's smile. Dave rose.

"I'm going to sleep till dawn—don't let anybody wake me," he said, and at last he was alone.

Another Arrow Hurling Between the Boys' Upturned Arms and His Body and Stuck, Glowering in One of Its Upright Bars.

Two boys were serious and kind. "We won't, Dave."

Now boys began to clang at the edge of the forest.

"There they are," cried Polly. "Come on, Lyddy." The young hunter entered a floor and within a few minutes across a rude bed, face down.

"Honor!" cried one of the old women. "You go on, get a bucket of water."

The whip stopped instantly, the girl stepped with a sort of slow majesty from the cabin, and entering the next, paused on the threshold as her eyes caught the powerful figure stretched on the bed and already in heavy sleep.

She felt the flush in her face and to conceal it she turned her head angrily when she came out. A few minutes later she was at the spring and lulling into her pail with a gourd. Near by the other two girls were milking—each with her forehead against the soft flank of a drowsy cow whose hoofs were stung with the juice of wild strawberries. Honor dipped lazily. When her bucket was full she fell a-dreaming, and when the girls were through with their task they turned to find her with deep, unseeing eyes on the dirt wilderness.

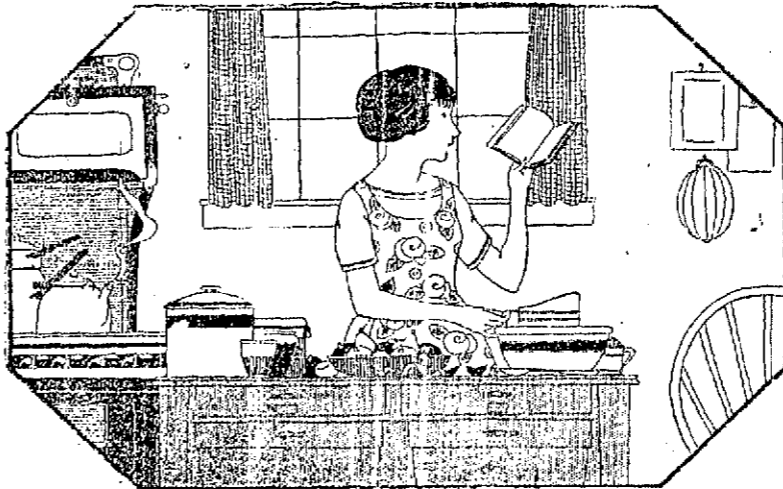

"Don't!" cried Polly, starting her, and then teasingly:

"Are you in love with Dave, too, Honor?"

The girl reddened.

"No," she whispered out, "but I ain't got to be." And then she reddened again.

Your Wedding Invitations

You may have the modish expensive shaded letterings so preferable to script on your wedding invitations at no additional cost if they are Relief Engraved. The engraved script invitation cannot approach it in beauty; in appearance it rivals the best of plate engraving.

The fine texture of the paper used lends much to its very apparent charm.

Discriminating women are everywhere welcoming this new engraving process as one of the wonders of the age.
